

Urinstinkt – Instinct Primaire (Basic Instinct)

(20.04.2021)

When I first heard this phrase,
“Free and save Indian temples”
I found it a bit strange and lumber!
Were the temples in for a tumble?
because of our neglect & slumber
Or was it a collapse of our values that dogmas and hypocrisy have become a way of life that’s not only shallow but continues to devalue!

Once upon a time these temples
were not just centres of spirituality!
But the symbol of free will and worth
that emerged in the depicted sexuality!
Men & Women shown in explicit yet
creative acts of passionate sensuality!
That after almost five thousand years
of barbaric attacks, weathering, & rust
they continue draw response as varied
as wow to embarrassment & disgust!

The ‘sex’ on temple walls and doors
has to be an anomaly for modernity!
A word that was considered sacred
and a must for the human existence
is now questioned with abnormality!
I wonder as to which other civilisation
ever related with the power of sex
as utmost regard for indigenisation!

So ladies and gentlemen!
Once upon an ancient time...
in her own mind and body
She was always free to attract
and get attracted in this race,
She was free to celebrate sex
in complete freedom and face!

That was women’s empowerment
Isn’t it a feeling of bewilderment?
If sex underlines human existence
Who the hell is society to teach her
the sexual morality with persistence!
If you call this ‘life’ as a sacred thing
As to how can you act as dumb-ass
in accepting ‘sex’ as a sacred being!

Whether its Female Genocide or AIDS
or the horrifying acts of the brutal rapes

Three manifestations of moral society
Are we supposed to oppose or brace!

Not only women, are not the men
also victims of this human history!
As they are raised by caged women
and consider oppression as a victory!

From the contemporary liberal times
of that great Indian ancient culture...
Should we really feel proud about
the paradigm shift, as modern times?
Or take a pragmatic approach to redress the malfunctioning of society
for the sake of futuristic nation times!

We are born and nurtured by society
and since childhood, are taught to suppress our desires for conformity!
We are restricted to admit pleasure
and even discard the live-in definition
till we marry and explore the treasure!
As if marriage is a licence to have sex
in order to protect us from the censure!

Isn’t each day seems to be first April,
the Fool’s day in our estranged life!
We may pretend liberation in thinking
but to me, it seems deceived paradise!

This is really amusing that Society
for the sake of avoiding a disorder
Made a protocol, that is propriety!
the one that seems to be broader yet naive enough to protect our ‘Self-Esteem’ and ‘Instinct-Primaire’!
